Is offering

an internship ‘Sustainable scenarios for Europe’

The Research Institute for Nature and Forest (INBO) is the Flemish research and knowledge centre for nature and its sustainable management and use. INBO conducts research and supplies knowledge to all those who prepare or make the policies or are interested in them as a stakeholder.

Through its scientific research, INBO supports all agencies dealing with open space in the Flemish government, as well as in organisations involved in nature conservation, forestry, agriculture, hunting and fishery. INBO publishes its results as open data and provides data for international reporting. It participates in (inter)national research networks such as LTER, ALTER-Net, LifeWatch, ...

INBO is an unincorporated internal agency of the Flemish government.

Internship subject

The Nature & Society team is looking for a bachelor (or in training) to participate in the project “Sustainable scenarios for Europe” at VAC Herman Teirlinck (Havenlaan 88, box 73 1000 Brussels).

The internship period can start from now on, end date is October 2021.

The literature describes a large number of policy scenarios concerning nature and sustainability of what Europe will / can look like in the coming decades. As part of an assignment for the European Commission, you help researchers from the Nature and Society Team to code this literature for a publication. The research question is whether sustainable scenarios are possible under current political, technological and socio-economic systems, and if not, which transformations are necessary to make a change possible. The work is linked to the IPBES assessments, will take place in an international team and lead to a publication.

If you meet the requirements below, please contact Sander Jacobs (sander.jacobs@inbo.be), who will act as your internship supervisor.

- You have a good knowledge of English (speaking, reading and writing)
- You have a very good knowledge of Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, PP
